CHAIRPERSON'S FOREWORD

HARSHITA UPPAL
SPERA SOLUTIONS

As we look back on a memorable chapter at Infiniti Connects, I am filled with immense gratitude and pride for everything we have created together.

The journey through Elysium, Awards Night, and Meherrang has been a beautiful reflection of what our community stands for connection, collaboration, celebration, and growth.

Elysium brought our members closer through meaningful interactions, participation, referrals, learning, and collaboration. It reminded us that when we step forward and support one another, individual efforts can create a powerful collective impact.

Our Awards Night gave us an opportunity to pause and celebrate the people who consistently contribute to our community. Every recognition represented not just an achievement, but the dedication, relationships, leadership, and spirit that continue to strengthen Infiniti Connects.

And Meherrang brought a different kind of energy and opportunity to come together, celebrate our culture, creativity, and the joy of being part of a community beyond business.

Together, these experiences have reminded us that Infiniti Connects is more than a networking platform. It is a community built on people, relationships, shared experiences, and the belief that we can grow stronger together.

My heartfelt appreciation goes to every member, team, partner, and contributor who helped make these experiences memorable. Your participation, enthusiasm, and support continue to shape the journey of Infiniti Connects.

As we move forward, may we carry these connections, celebrations, and shared memories with us and continue to Network • Collaborate • Scale Together.

Here's to everything we have achieved, everything we have celebrated, and everything that lies ahead.

With warm regards,

HARSHITA UPPAL
Chairperson, Infiniti Connects

MEHERRANG IN FOCUS THE AWARDS NIGHT

STARRING INFINITI

Some evenings are about celebration. Others are about the people who make the celebration worth remembering. In Focus Meherrang & Awards Night was both. An evening where colour met recognition, where creativity shared the spotlight with achievement, and where the Infiniti Connects community came together to celebrate the people and moments that make its journey special.
Meherrang brought the evening alive with its vibrant energy, creativity, and spirit of expression creating a space where individuality took centre stage and every moment felt like a celebration of community.

The evening then turned In Focus towards the achievements that deserved to be recognised. The Awards Night celebrated members who have demonstrated leadership, growth, contribution, and an unwavering spirit of collaboration within the Infiniti Connects community. From meaningful conversations to proud moments on stage, every recognition reflected a larger story of people showing up, creating impact, supporting one another, and growing together.

It wasn't simply an awards ceremony. It was a celebration of the journeys behind the achievements, the relationships behind the community, and the people who continue to shape the Infiniti Connects story. An evening of colour. An evening of recognition. An evening that put the community

TESTOMINALS BY THE MEMBERS

Surabhi Srivastava

Surabhi Srivastava, the founder of Infiniti Connects, is someone who has built much more than a networking community. She has created a space where business, friendship, support and genuine connections come together.

From starting Infiniti Connects to bringing together a community of 250+ members and continuing to grow rapidly, Surabhi's vision has been truly commendable. What I love about Infiniti Connects is that it is not just about networking. It is about people doing business with each other, supporting each other, building friendships and creating meaningful relationships.

There are always events, activities and new ideas, and every time Surabhi manages to bring something new to the table and keeps uping the game.

But what stands out to me most is Surabhi herself. I have seen her manage so much alongside everything she does for Infiniti Connects, including the entire construction of her house, and yet she continues to show up with the same smile, energy and enthusiasm. You would hardly know what may be happening behind the scenes because she never allows it to take away from the community she has built.

That, for me, is a very rare quality. She has a sharp voice that gets all of us moving and contributing towards the community. Her determination and clarity of vision have turned Infiniti Connects into much more than a networking group. It has become a genuine community where people do business, build friendships, support one another and grow together.

I think that is what makes Infiniti Connects truly special. It is Surabhi's vision that brings people together, but it is her consistency, energy and ability to keep showing up that has made that vision a reality.

Here's to Surabhi and to the ever-growing Infiniti Connects family!

Roli Ma'am

Sometimes, a single meeting creates a lifetime impact, and that's what Roli Ma'am had on me.

Her travel kitty, Ek Sukoon, is a unique concept of travel where she makes sure your experience goes beyond just sightseeing. Your experience becomes a treasure that you cherish for a lifetime.

She also runs a play school and helps children achieve their best by engaging them not only in academics but also through creativity.

On a personal note, she is a beautiful person inside and out, and I find a lot of sukoon in connecting with her.

Best wishes!

Preeti Chaddha

My experience with Preeti Chaddha, the founder of Dermapuritys, has been truly refreshing. When I visited her clinic, what immediately stood out to me was the kind of technology, machines and equipment she has. It is genuinely commendable.

But beyond the infrastructure, what impressed me even more was Preeti's vast knowledge and understanding of skin. She recommended a sunscreen for me, and honestly, it has been doing wonders.

What I particularly appreciate about her approach is that she doesn't try to sell you a package just for the sake of making a sale. Preeti is someone who will genuinely guide you on what is best for your skin. There is no pressure, no unnecessary pushing and no feeling that you have to buy something from her clinic.

And I think that says a lot about a professional. Her machines, her skills, her knowledge and, most importantly, her techniques speak for themselves. She doesn't need to convince you to choose her because the work she does speaks for her.

For me, that is what makes Preeti and Dermapuritys stand apart, when your expertise speaks louder than your sales pitch, you know you are in the right hands.

Dr. Teena

Dr. Teena is extremely professional and genuinely attentive to her patients' concerns.

Her approach is detailed and personalised, and she explains the treatment clearly and honestly.

I am very happy with the care I received for my concern regarding a dark spot on my face.

The overall experience has been excellent, and I would highly recommend Dr. Teena to anyone looking for professional and compassionate skincare.

THOUGHT ROOM

HOW TO STAY VISIBLE WITHOUT CONSTANTLY SELLING

Here's something most people in professional communities quietly struggle with: they want to show up, be remembered, and grow their reputation — but they don't want to feel like they're always pitching something. So they go quiet instead.
That tension is real. But it's also built on a false choice.

Visibility and selling are not the same thing. The people who tend to be most respected — the ones everyone actually wants to refer business to — are rarely the ones posting the most offers. They're the ones who show up with something genuinely useful, say something honest about a challenge they faced, or just make someone else feel recognised. And they do it consistently, without an agenda attached.

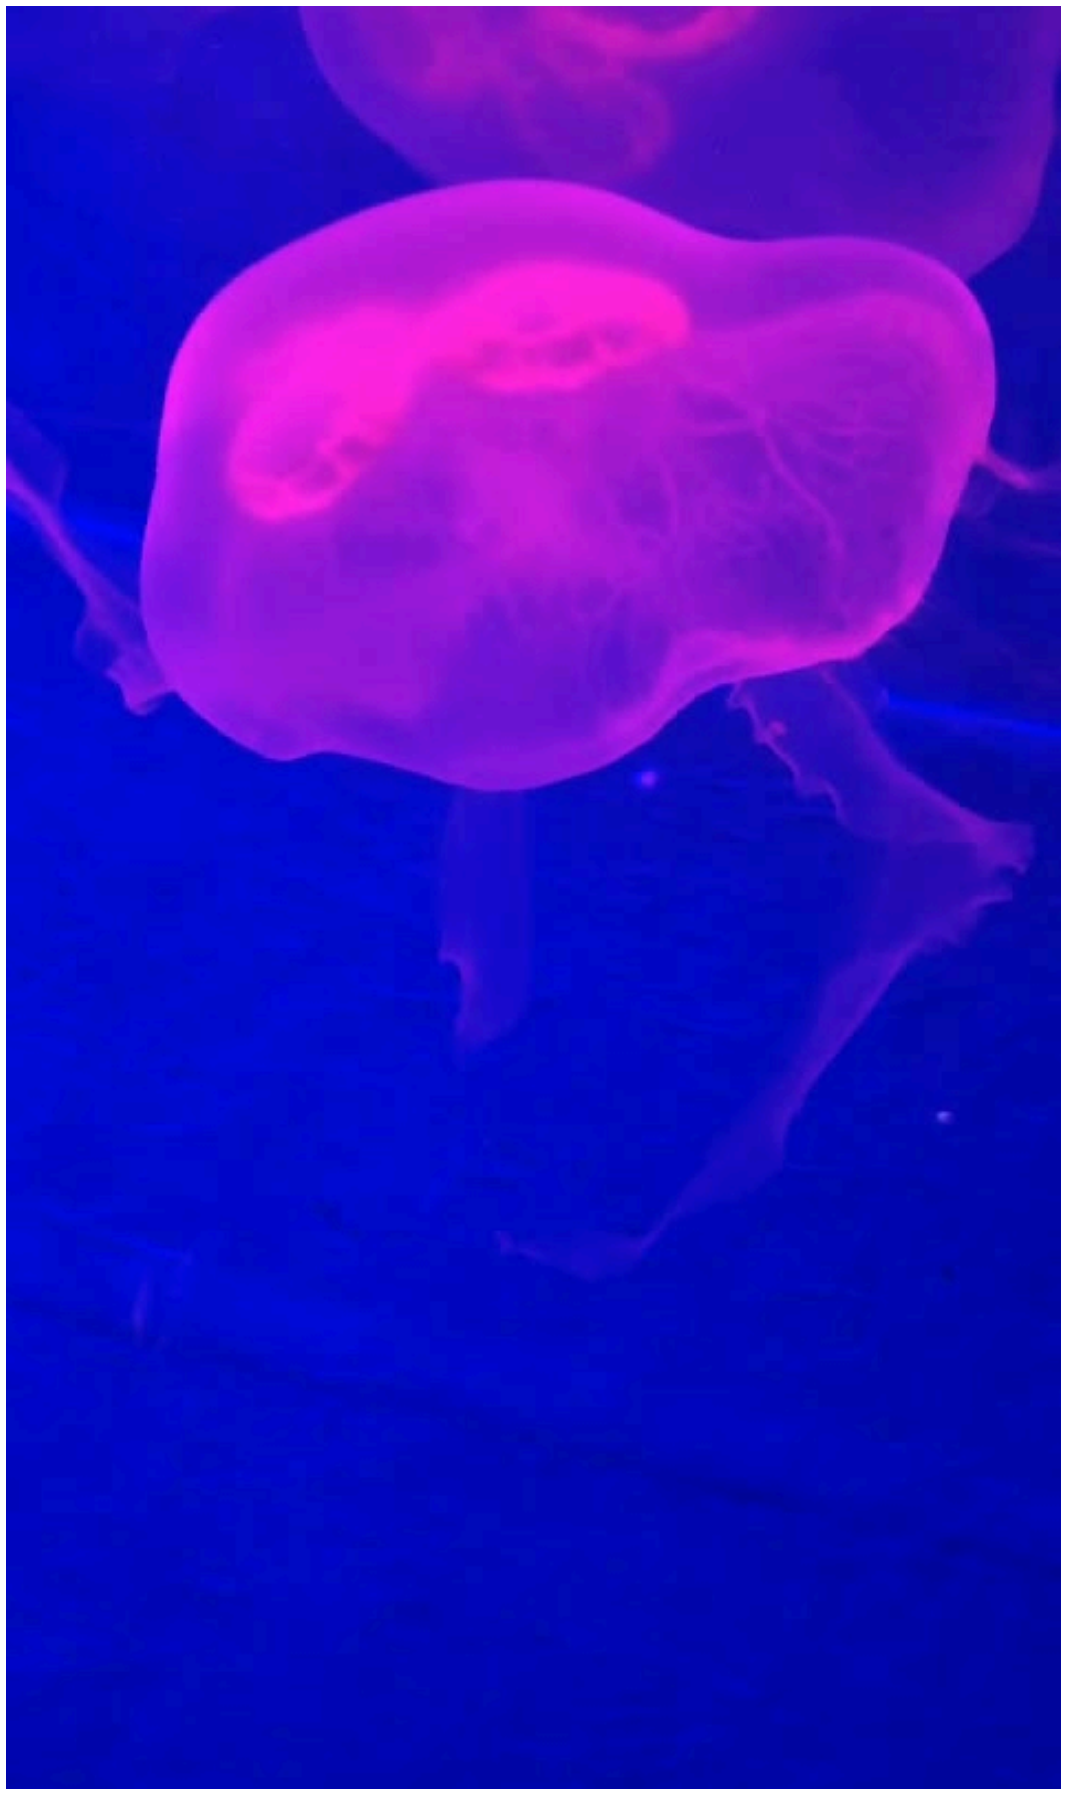

Our WhatsApp group is a good example of this in practice. When it's working well, it's not because someone posted a promotion that landed. It's because a member shared a lesson that saved someone else a headache, or made an introduction that turned into something real, or asked a question that got everyone thinking.

A few things that tend to work well, in case it helps:
Share what you've actually learned. Recognise others. Ask genuine questions. Give before you need anything.
The goal isn't to be seen everywhere. It's to be remembered where it matters.

FOUNDER'S NOTE

Some milestones are measured in years. The most meaningful ones are measured in the people, relationships and memories we create along the way. Elysium was a journey of connection, collaboration, participation and friendly competition.

On 13 September, we celebrated the culmination of Elysium 2026 with Meherrang & Awards Night. Meherrang brought colour and creativity to the evening, while the Awards gave us an opportunity to recognise the people who made the journey special.

For me, the most beautiful part was watching our members celebrate one another.

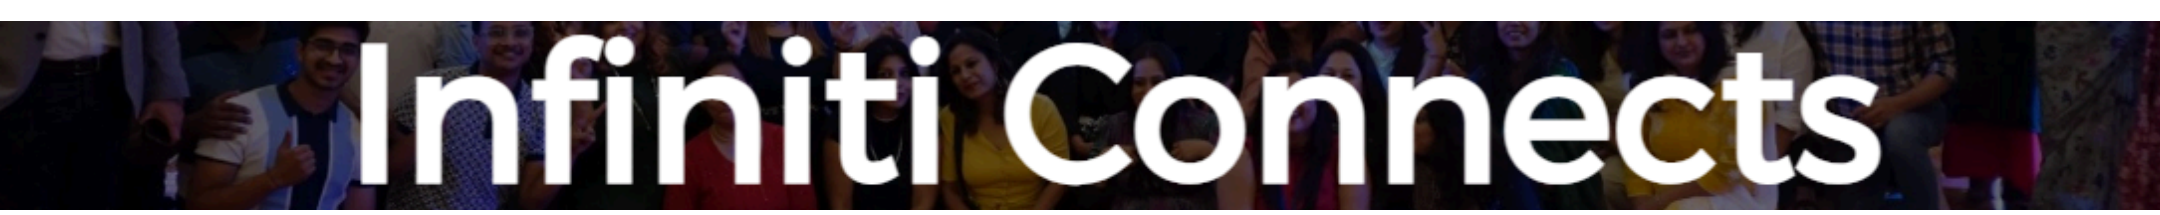

Because Infiniti Connects is not just about events. It is about people who connect, collaborate, create opportunities and grow together.

Proud of what we have built. Grateful for everyone who continues to be part of the journey.

Here's to many more connections, collaborations and milestones together.
